

Edinburgh USA

April 2014

Dear Don,

We are sure excited to begin another season of golf excellence, this is going to be an important year for Edinburgh USA!

Believe it or not, golf is right around the corner! We will soon be starting our golf course improvement project, when finished the course will look and play new - follow along on our website for improvement plans, before and after pictures and much more news - better yet, come see it in person; the course will be open while the improvements are being made, we will be working on three holes at a time.

We are working hard to get the golf course open on Saturday, April 12th which would be a pretty average opening day. The practice range will open Wednesday, April 9th with the chipping and bunker green opening the week of April 14th.

Our rates are the same as last year; check them out on our website, especially our Daily Specials - golf and a cart for a fraction of the price.

Teaching professional, Andy Wiese, just back from a winter of learning at the prestigious Grayhawk Golf Club in Scottsdale, Arizona,

Don't Forget to Check Out Brookland Golf Park!

The amenities are nice but the real star of the show at Brookland Golf Park is the high quality of the course design. Located on 20 acres of land in the heart of the city, players find this course to be fun, friendly and filled with an inviting atmosphere. Our course is specially designed to make players of all ages and skill levels feel both challenged and competitive. Book your next round today!

We also offer lessons, clinics, and leagues for golfers of all ages. For more information please visit the new Brookland website!
